NEW GUN IN SHOTGUN KILLER

PISTOL BULLET FOUND IN BODY OF REMINGTON

Two men were being sought late last night as the slayers of Earle Remington, widely known electrical engineer and aviator, whose body was found early yesterday morning in the driveway of his home at 1409 South St. Andrews Place.

The theory that two men and a dog had fired the fatal shots that ended the popular society man's life, was accepted by Captain of Detectives George Home following the finding of a bullet hole under the dead man's heart.

Shotgun wounds in Mr. Remington's body led the police to believe at first that only one man was responsible for the murder. The finding of the bullet indicated that while one man fired a double-barrelled shotgun at Mr. Remington, the second slayer attacked him with a revolver.

Aside from this fact, no startling new clues were revealed by the homicide squad in their investigation of the Remington case. Captain of Detectives Home, many persons were interviewed at Central Station during the evening hours, but none of them was of much assistance to the investigation, according to the police.

SEES WIFE'S ATTORNEY

Among those who held a long conference with Capt. of Detectives Home was Attorney J. L. Geisler, counsel for Mrs. Remington and who for the last two weeks had been arranging a property settlement for Mrs. Remington in her proposed divorce action against her husband.

"I have just had a long interview with Mrs. Remington," said Mr. Geisler, "and I am convinced she knows nothing of the murder which she has not already divulged to the authorities. She has requested me to assist the police in their investigation as much as I possibly can, which I have offered to do."

Following this statement and at the close of his long conference with Mr. Geisler, Capt. of Detectives Home and Detective Sergeant Jarvis and Herman Cline hurriedly left Central Station on a mission, the nature of which they would not divulge, and had not returned at a late hour.

DOMESTIC CLASHES

Shadows of the underworld late yesterday afternoon fell on the mystery surrounding the slaying of Remington, and mingled with reports of a bitter domestic clash of recent date between the slain man and his long and socially well known wife, Mrs. Virginia Lola Stone Remington.

Less than two weeks ago Mrs. Remington discussed divorce proceedings with Dep. Dist. Atty. Burton Pitts and later retained Attorney H. L. Geisler. Then she went to San Francisco to visit friends and only returned to this city two or three days ago. No divorce action had been filed before she left the city and no papers had been drawn up, according to the attorneys.

Shortly after Remington had been shot down by a hidden assassin or assassins as he stepped from his automobile in the driveway of his home about 11:30 o'clock Thursday night, the information was in the hands of the police that over half a dozen men with a bootlegger and had purchased a quantity of whisky. The name of the whisky-dealer, who supplied the investigating police and a search put under way at once.

TUSCAN PRINCE IS FOUND

Coast Guard Cutter Snohomish Taking Off Crew of Vessel, Which is Total Loss

SEATTLE, Feb. 16.—The steamship Tuscan Prince, whose whereabouts and fate were unknown since 4 a.m. yesterday, was found this afternoon at Village Point, Vancouver Island, a wreck but with all on board alive.

Word of the discovery of the Tuscan Prince, for whom dozens of craft have been searching since she flashed, "We are going to drown," was received here in dispatches from the Coast Guard cutter Snohomish. The Snohomish took fourteen of the crew of forty-three and is to remove the others in the morning.

The Snohomish, the message said, in returning tomorrow after completing rescue of the crew of the Tuscan Prince, will pick up that of the steamship Santa Rita, Santa Rita men, said to be short of wood, have been camped at Carmichael Point, Vancouver Island, since she hit on a rock early yesterday while attempting to go to the aid of the steamer Nika, which burned to the water's edge. The fourteen men taken to the Snohomish were carried in the surf boat of the Canadian life-saving station at Bamfield Strait. The Snohomish reported that.

SEEN BY FISHERMAN

Discovery of the Tuscan Prince was preceded by reports today that a Japanese fisherman at Ucluelue had seen a large steamer ashore on Village Point.

Findings of the Tuscan Prince clears up a series of marine mysteries that had taxed the ingenuity of wireless operators and Coast Guard officers since the Nika reported herself derailing at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon. While listening for messages from the Nika and the Santa Rita the radio operators ashore caught two messages sent by the Tuscan Prince, neither of which gave her position.

STATEMENT BY ATTORNEY

The attorney declared he had not been requested to file divorce papers, but stated that he had been informed by Mrs. Remington of "some trouble" between the couple. He declared that he could not discuss the case as he had not seen Mrs. Remington since the discovery of her husband's body.

From R. H. Moore of 1422 South St. Andrews Place, Detective Cline learned that two mysterious automobiles were seen in front of the Remington home about 7 o'clock Thursday night. The automobiles were seen by Mrs. Moore, a small coupe and was occupied by a woman. The second machine contained two men and up to the first machine and then both cars circled the block several times before driving away. A complete description of both automobiles and the two men and the woman is in the hands of the police.

No one in the neighborhood could be found who saw any one lurking about the Remington home or in the driveway during the late evening.

TUTENKHAMUN TOMB OPENED; NOT DISTURBED

BY H. V. MORTON
(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
(Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger)
LUXOR, Feb. 15.—One of the most wonderful sights ever witnessed by Egyptologists was seen by the excavators of King Tutankhamun's tomb today when the inner chamber was opened and they peered into the darkness. Around the great sarcophagus lay a mass of precious objects, vases, urns, statuettes and boxes with the dust of thirty centuries on them.

The lights of three powerful electric torches flickered like white moons in the pitch darkness, illuminating sections of the painted walls where the weird gods of Egypt were pictured tending the soul of the king on its journey to the Shades.

Although twenty persons were present there was not a single sound in the tomb. The lights focused on the break in the wall leading to the death chamber. Heads bent fast as the excavator in-chief was bidden to look at that which no human eye had seen for 3000 years. No matter how little superstitious a man may be, the sight of breaking the rest so carefully guarded through the centuries must cause an emotion which can never efface. Lord Carnarvon was pale as he stepped slowly into the darkness and was lost in the shadows of ancient Egypt.

SECRETLY ENFORCED

This year into the mummy chamber of the Pharaoh took place great secret. Not one sound was permitted and no camera was allowed. The tomb was opened at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The discovery of the tomb on the lower desert way taken by Dr. Alan Gardiner and Lord Carnarvon, was made as he stepped slowly into the darkness and was lost in the shadows of ancient Egypt.

CHINA SPEAK

The door of the outer chamber was reopened at 1:30 o'clock. Cane chairs were taken into the tomb for visitors. The men removed their coats and hats and stood in a row, waiting for the entrance of the king. A dramatic period of suspense followed. The door was opened and a sound of hand-clapping in the tomb was heard. The king's body was seen lying in the tomb. The king's body was seen lying in the tomb.

It was the habit of Marie Remington, slain aviator, to come home at night, declared Mrs. L. Miller, 1401 South St. Andrews, who lives in the house on the north, and consequently members of the household paid no attention to the automobile that came up the driveway just before he was murdered yesterday morning or late yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Miller's old Llewellyn setter, which always slept upon the sun porch of her home, and seldom gave any alarm at the approach of Remington's car. On the night of the murder, however, Mrs. Miller said she was aroused by the barking of the old hunting dog. His outcry was deafening, and she was alarmed to find that she believed a burglary of their home was being attempted.

Finally the dog pushed open an outside door to the sun parlor and came into the house, barking away, keeping up his bay.

Mrs. Miller came downstairs, and, going to the sun parlor, closed the door until he returned.

MURDER AT 1:30 P.M.
She does not recall, she says, that she heard shots, although she has been fired within a few feet of her house. The dog's outcry, she says, shut out all other sounds, and she believes that it was at this time that the murder was committed. She fixes the hour at 1:30 p.m.

It was not until 7 o'clock in the evening, more than seven hours after the slaying, that Mrs. Miller said she learned that Remington had been slain.

When the neighborhood was again by the shrieks of Mrs. Remington and the negro, Harry Miller, former superintendent of the factory where Remington constructed bank vaults, and who was associated with Remington in his various enterprises, believes that it was a murder for revenge. He admits that he knows of nothing of which he has his statement, but he is anxious to accept the theory of an unprovoked hold-up.

He was one of the first men called to the Remington home, arriving shortly after 2 o'clock from home at 210 North Rampart boulevard.

FREQUENTLY OUT LATE.
Remington frequently had conversations that kept him away from home until late at night, Miller said. Only a few minutes previously Remington had met some business clients at the Ambassador. Miller had planned to go with him that night, he said, but he was unable to keep the engagement.

It would not have been difficult for the associate to check Remington's movements, he said, and, having learned that he habitually stayed away from home until late in the evening, to wait for him.

For months Remington had left his car in the driveway. It was explained, because another car was housed in the small garage at the rear of the premises. The car in the garage was out of running order, and Mrs. Miller and Remington always used the Ford coupe.

T. E. Miller of Culver City, a brother of Mrs. Remington, was called to the murdered man's home early in the morning and remained throughout the day. He was associated with his brother-in-law in the Night & Day Electric Protective Co. Miller perfected a device for the sounding of alarms in banks which he patented and Remington was aiding him in marketing it.

A sister, Mrs. Blanche Remington, was prosecuted for her home, 1845 W. Twentieth street, when she learned of the murder.

attracted the attention of Mrs. Miller by barking at the rear screen door of her home shortly before 11:30 p.m. The animal rushed out of the house, according to Mrs. Miller, and she was forced to call it back. Some time later the sound of the shots was heard.

CLEWS AND RUMORS.
Vague and indefinite clues and rumors came to the attention of Capt. Home and Detective Cline during the first few hours of the investigation.

Reports received from Special Investigator Charles Reamer of the District Attorney's office informed the police that Remington was in the habit of remaining away from home until almost midnight many times.

Gay parties attended by the clubmen were also reported to the police by Attorney Pitts, who stated that he had been informed of the parties by Mrs. Remington. Once detectives were employed by Mrs. Remington to shadow her husband, according to her account to Mr. Pitts, her husband accused her of having him shadowed.

An investigation of a possible part played by Remington in a charity affair given by Mrs. Remington at a well-known roadhouse was pursued by the police yesterday afternoon by Detective Cline. Rumors and reports received by the police but unconfirmed by them were to the effect that some persons were disgruntled by the outcome of a raffle said to have been conducted by persons connected with the Remingtons. The affair, according to the information in the hands of the police, was for the benefit of the Disabled Veterans.

During the investigation of Remington's affairs made by the police in an effort to uncover some person bearing him a grudge, the officers learned that he was connected with three local companies. The authorities named the companies as the Night and Day Electric Protective Company, the Night and Day Safe Deposit Company and the Remington Company. They learned that he leaves several unpaid notes in a large local bank and that he owns the Rincho Ranch at Chino. It was also learned that Mrs. Remington owns a valuable lot in Beverly Hills.

It was definitely established by the police yesterday that if Remington and his slayers had any conversation before the fatal shots were fired, it was in a very low tone of voice. Mrs. Miller told the officers she heard the shots but did not hear any one talking or calling out.

CAPT. HOME'S STATEMENT.
In an official statement Capt. Home declared:

"We are going into this thing from the ground up. We have been working all day reconstructing this crime and in interviewing the various persons more or less connected with the dead man and neighbors who heard the shots. We were able to learn very little from Mrs. Remington. She is suffering from shock and could only tell us that she has no idea who killed her husband and could give us no information regarding any person bearing him a grudge. She heard nothing and the same is true for the colored maid. They were alone in the house all night and knew nothing of the slaying until the maid opened the rear of the house in the morning."

Detective Cline late yesterday afternoon declared that he was working under the impression that many possible clues and leads lie stated that all angles of the mysterious case were under investigation and that the results would be obtained without a doubt.

"We are going into this thing to get results," stated Detective Cline. "Every possible clue is being run down. There is no doubt that the killing of Remington was planned in advance and that the assassin knew the lay of the land about the Remington home. They must have looked the place over many times before they conceived themselves in the hedge and waited. Robbery was not the motive of this killing. Mr. Remington had not been searched before or after he was shot down. Something deeper is behind the whole thing. I believe that we will pry it out in time."

Prior to the World War he became interested in aviation and for a time was general manager of the California Aviation Company. In this work he was associated with Vernon Balser, well-known aviation engineer.

During the war Remington's company took the first order from the government for the construction of airplanes. In order to speed the work a factory, located on East Fifth street, was taken over and converted into a suitable plant for the construction of airplanes.

Besides being a manufacturer of air machines, Mr. Remington became interested in flying and later became an accomplished aviator. In recent years he had abandoned the building of airplanes but retained an active interest in aviation.

From the beginning of the war Mrs. Remington took an active interest in welfare work among the soldiers and sailors. Many discharges were given to her through her philanthropic efforts, and she has been the investigator in many benefits for ex-servicemen since the war ended.

She has been a frequent visitor at hospitals where disabled men are being cared for, and is known as an angel of mercy by many war victims. It is said that she has made large donations from her private resources toward aiding disabled men to get a new start in life and to carry on their work.

As a bank designer Mr. Remington and his bride were each 30 years of age at the time of their marriage, she giving South Carolina as her birthplace and he being a native of Pennsylvania. It was Mrs. Remington's third marriage and Mr. Remington's first, according to the records.

At the time of his death Mr. Remington was interested in three large organizations, namely, the Remington Company, the Day and Night Electric Protective Company, and the Day and Night Safe Deposit Company. The first-named dealt in bank designs and architecture, and the others in bank vaults and safety-deposit devices.

MURDER VICTIM PROMINENT

Earle Remington, prominent business man and clubman, who was mysteriously slain Thursday night in the shadow of his home, was well-known throughout business circles of the city and state as a bank designer and engineer.

His wife, Mrs. Virginia L. Miller Stone Remington, is equally well known in social and philanthropic circles of the city and southwest, being noted as a horsewoman, and during and since the war as one of the most active workers in behalf of soldiers and ex-servicemen.

The couple were married June 25, 1916, by Rev. George Davidson of St. John's Episcopal Church.

While it was previously known they were engaged, their marriage was kept secret from friends and relatives. Thomas E. Miller, brother of Mrs. Remington, accompanied the couple to the church and witnessed the marriage.

During the war Remington's company took the first order from the government for the construction of airplanes. In order to speed the work a factory, located on East Fifth street, was taken over and converted into a suitable plant for the construction of airplanes.

Besides being a manufacturer of air machines, Mr. Remington became interested in flying and later became an accomplished aviator. In recent years he had abandoned the building of airplanes but retained an active interest in aviation.

From the beginning of the war Mrs. Remington took an active interest in welfare work among the soldiers and sailors. Many discharges were given to her through her philanthropic efforts, and she has been the investigator in many benefits for ex-servicemen since the war ended.

She has been a frequent visitor at hospitals where disabled men are being cared for, and is known as an angel of mercy by many war victims. It is said that she has made large donations from her private resources toward aiding disabled men to get a new start in life and to carry on their work.

As a bank designer Mr. Remington and his bride were each 30 years of age at the time of their marriage, she giving South Carolina as her birthplace and he being a native of Pennsylvania. It was Mrs. Remington's third marriage and Mr. Remington's first, according to the records.

FEAR GUERRILLA
WAR IN RUHR

was sentenced by the French court-martial at Breda today to pay a fine of 1,000,000 marks for alleged interference with the French on Monday after the taking over by the French of the Kaiserhof Hotel, which is the headquarters of Gen. Coats, head of the industrial mission in the Ruhr. The director facilitated the cutting off of the hotel light when the boycott started with the waiters refusing to serve the French.

Oberbürgermeister Haverstiel of Oberhausen, who was arrested for disregarding French orders, also was tried by the Breda court-martial. He was convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment. Large crowds gathered outside the building where the court-martial was held but the French soldiers on guard prevented close approach to the building. No serious trouble occurred.

Gen. Fournier has notified the Burgomaster's office that all Allied soldiers, as well as all Allied civilians, are entitled to make purchases in the stores of Essen and to be served in restaurants and cafes and that any keepers of such places who refuse to sell will run the risk of their places being closed or requisitioned.

LONDON CONFERENCE FAILS.
BY JOHN SCOOTE
(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LONDON, Feb. 16.—The French mission which came to London seeking the right to use the German railways in the British occupied area on the Rhine to transport reparations coal and troop movements has failed.

Minister of Public Works Le Troquer and Gen. Payot returned to Paris tonight to report their failure and to consult with Premier Poincaré about the next step.

The utmost secrecy was preserved by both sides as to what occurred at the meeting, which lasted an hour and one-half, this morning, following a meeting of the British Cabinet last night. A bare communique stated that a meeting had taken place and would not be resumed today nor tomorrow, and the French returned to Paris.

Nothing was said about their return to London and I understand this is not expected at present.

From official sources I learn that the British, acting on advice from military authorities in Cologne, gave a direct negative to the French demands, explaining that it would be impossible for them to accede without risk of all sorts of complications. The French disclosed that they not only wanted to move troops of coal, but had reasons to believe the Germans were planning wholesale sabotage and perhaps an uprising which would need a large force of troops to quell. The French proposed to bring these troops from Alsace and Lorraine, using the main line through Cologne, and they asked that the British undertake to guard these lines or allow the French themselves to do so.

Gen. MacLachlan from the technical branch of the Rhine army was present at the meeting today, and it is said that he brought a report from Gen. Godley, the British commander at Cologne, which failed to bear out the French fears of a German outbreak.

NEW CHURCH BURNS.
BY A. P. HIGHT WIRE.
ATLANTA (Ga.) Feb. 16.—The Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, one of the largest negro church edifices in the South, was destroyed by fire here late tonight. The church was completed about three months ago and was valued at approximately $200,000. The fire broke out at 11:30 p.m. and was extinguished by a fire department.

The church was a fine structure, built of brick and stone, and was a landmark in the neighborhood. The fire was caused by a defective fuse. All the fire fighting apparatus in Atlanta were used in an effort to save the church.

BRITISH DEBT

appointed as the conferees for the Senate.

Only two important Senate amendments are in dispute between the Senate and House. These are the amendment of Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, providing for approval by Congress instead of the President of funding agreement with other nations and one by Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, providing for appointment of three Democrats to the Debt Commission.

Both were adopted by the Senate without record votes. The Robinson amendment was accepted by administration leaders but they opposed that of Senator Harris and said it would be dropped out in conference if it threatened to delay enactment of the legislation.

The attacks in final sessions of today as well as in previous sessions centered on reduced interest provided in the British settlement. This is 3 per cent for the first ten years and 1 1/2 thereafter. Appointments called finally upon the amendment of Senator Hillecock, Democrat, Nebraska, proposing that Great Britain should pay the same rate as the United States on its securities, averaged every year.

This was rejected, 41 to 21, and ended the interest fight.

This is a celery month. Wash and dry the leaves and keep them in a tightly-closed jar. Sprinkle with salt and sugar. They are superior to celery salt.

Cheese can be served in many ways because it appeals to the most fastidious of palates. Have you tried it with Far le Duo for your light supper party? The cheese is put through a ricer and four jelly in the center, then place buttered crackers around the rim of your plate. The meal is quite gratifying and gives one a feeling of having been well fed and, of course, you realize how extremely nourishing and healthful L. A. Cheese is, not a bit hard on your digestive organ, according to the doctor who insists on your getting L. A. He ought to know.

If a cup of milk contains as much lime as an egg—and sixteen times as much lime as two slices of bread, think how much lime and other salts (which grow in the bones and blood) your family and small will derive from drinking a quart of milk at least once a day in conjunction with bread or crackers or anything which they have a liking for. This is a mathematical problem in the sense of a science degree to point out the advantages of drinking L. A. Milk. "Food for thought" we would call it, which after digesting will make you all the more determined to order more L. A. Milk daily.

Isn't that one sets out or in-laws deliberately to procrastinate, is just because we put off or haven't been prodded into remembering to get up or stop in this very way. The Western Feather and Sewing Works, 1243 Washington St. (1243) and ask them to call for your down quilt which needs re-covering. When its done your enjoyment is going to be great and for comfort's sake.

Are the ants beginning to infest your kitchen and grounds? They certainly make our lives miserable when they get into the house, for much harm can they do as most of us who have lived in California a few years know.

However, you may be spared the nuisance of them for all times by installing the "Antrol" system, which consists of glass jars filled with a cream which brings immediate destruction to these small pests.

Full information will be given, and an estimate of the cost of the jars you need by calling The Universal Laboratory, 1805 W. Washington, St. West 181. Do so at once and be relieved of the trouble ants occasion.

KLAN MEASURE REPORTED OUT

Arizona Legislators Favor Law Against Masks

Shooting-on-Sight Feature is Eliminated

Bill Made Severe Against Hooded Order

(RECEIVED DISPATCH)
PHOENIX, Feb. 15.—The Douglas anti-Ku Klux Klan bill had favorable report today in the House and will go to the Senate where only its paragraph empowering any citizen to shoot a masked figure on sight.

As it is, prosecution for felony is required by appearing masked on the highway or in assemblies other than in halls hired for the purpose, while severe penalties are to be invoked in the event of damage done or intimidation used by masked persons.

It was declared that a few months ago Phoenix was an armed camp, where citizens carried weapons against an invisible foe and where law and order were prostituted. The Klan was blamed for this condition.

The day did not pass without its reference to the "Grand Old Party." There was a resolution by Collier reciting that no adequate survey had been made of the Colorado River for determination of power and irrigation; that a gravity diversion system might not be economically practicable at the present time, and that the legislature "place itself on record as favoring surveys and investigation of features that might be valuable to the State, with especial reference to plans that have been made for a monopoly by private capital, and claiming the entire canyon from Lee's Ferry to a point below Boulder Canyon."

Rutherford offered a resolution including a questionnaire concerning the Diamond Creek project, what power might be guaranteed the State from it and what connection with it is held by the Southern California Edison Company.

one hour. Drain the potatoes and grate them into a mixing bowl. Add to the grated potatoes two tablespoons of grated Brazil nuts, two tablespoons sifted flour, half a teaspoon of salt, half a cup of hot water, two and a half cups of cooking rice, one and a half tablespoons of melted butter, two well-beaten eggs, one and a half cups of sugar, three-quarters of a cup of oil, and one teaspoon of vanilla extract. Mix well, pour into a buttered pudding dish and bake a nice brown in a medium oven.

For a sauce for the pudding place in a sauce pan one cup of hot water, three-quarters of a cup of sugar, two teaspoons of butter, the strained juice of two oranges and one tablespoon of grated orange rind. Bring to a boil and boil three minutes.

KEEPING ORANGE BLOSSOMS
P. I. B. Sierra Madre, asks how to prepare paraffine for dipping orange blossoms. We only know two ways of keeping orange blossoms. One is pack a jar almost full of full-blown orange blossoms and then pour over them pure glycerine.

CANDIED ORANGE BLOSSOMS
Cover the orange blossoms with cold water and let stand twenty-four hours, drain and place in boiling water and boil four minutes. Drain and place the blossoms on a cotton cloth and sprinkle over them twice their weight of powdered sugar. Remove to platters and let stand in shady place for ten days or until the sugar is thoroughly absorbed, then place in a cool oven or dryer to dry. Pack layers covering each layer with powdered sugar.

BRAN BISCUITS
R. B. Phoenix, Ariz., requests that we furnish a recipe for bran biscuits like those made by one of the large biscuit companies. The home cook would not be able to make a biscuit of this kind as the commercial bakers put their biscuit doughs through a heavy machine, to press them down, called a brake. We would suggest the following recipe for home use: Sift two cups of flour with one teaspoon of salt. Add to this one cup of bran and rub into it half a cup of butter until well blended, add three tablespoons of molasses and work to a smooth dough with one and a quarter cups of sour milk. Roll out on a well-floured board, cut with biscuit cutter, place on a buttered pan and bake in a medium hot oven thirty minutes.

LEMON PIE
C. E. F. Phoenix, asks that we furnish a recipe for lemon pie as served by one of the local tea rooms. Try this one.

Place in a sauce pan half a cup of butter and a scant cup of sifted sugar; stir over a slow fire until it comes to a boil; pour into a bowl and when almost cold gradually mix in six well-beaten eggs and two level tablespoons of flour. When mixed smooth add the grated rind and strained juice of two lemons. Line a pie plate with a good short pastry, pour in the filler and bake in a slow oven forty-five minutes. Cover with meringue and brown in a slow oven.

APPLES A LA NEIGE
J. B. M. Pasadena, requests a recipe for an apple dessert, made with cooked apples, stuffed with egg white and raisins as served by one of the Boston hotels. Place in a sauce pan two cups of sugar, two slices of lemon rind and one and a half cups of water; bring to a boil and drop in six cored and peeled tart apples and cook until tender, not soft. Beat the whites of two eggs stiff and beat into them two tablespoons of sugar and one tablespoon of lemon extract. Fill the cavities in the apples with raisins that have been soaked in orange juice until tender, place the apples on a buttered dish, cover with the meringue and bake in medium oven more than fifteen minutes.

CONGRESSWOMAN FOR FILIPINOS' FREEDOM

(BY A. F. MORTIMER)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Resolutions advocating immediate Philippine independence and providing that the United States withhold all aid from nations which did not provide for plebiscites before declarations of war, were introduced today by Representative Winifred Mason Huck, Republican, Illinois.

MIDWICK

JOHN WIGMORE IS HERO OF DAY

Shining Light
Naps Mean Well, but Are Poorly Trained
Mark of Winners Carries Off the Honors

Although yesterday afternoon's match was an easy win for Midwick fans, who, under a canopy of seven goals, beat the Cavalry team by 13 goals to 2, the game was a far better one than would appear from the score. The visitors played a very hard sporting game, and were being due to lack of training and untrained horses. Considering that very few of the season for the Midwick team have ever played, and that this was the first time they had ever played, the fact that they were able to play a game of this nature was a very strong indication of their training. Chandler is a very strong player and as a captain keeps his team together well and gets the most out of them.

WIGMORE FRAMED
Midwick's defense work of yesterday was a masterpiece of defense, against long odds as they were the dash and long of Wilkins. The two goals, Mr. Chandler and Capt. Winkler, and to compete with the Midwick team, the Cavalry team had been practicing for the season. Chandler is a very strong player and as a captain keeps his team together well and gets the most out of them.

A.A.U. Relay Carnival and Midwinter Tennis is Set for Today

SIR PADDOCK IN HEADLINE ROLE NEBRASKA DENIES DATE HERE LOCAL SHARKS SHINE RACKETS PASADENA MIDGETS CHAMPIONS TOILER SQUAD ANNEXES TITLE

Three Hundred Athletes Will Compete in Meet Both High School, Varsity Teams Are Entered Occidental College is Scene of Local Classic

Sir Charles W. Paddock of Pasadena, Montenegro and the University of Southern California will be the main attraction today at the A.A.U. relay carnival at Occidental College, in which about 300 high school and college athletes will take part.

Today's program is notable for several reasons. It is the first outdoor meet of any consequence in the country; it marks the return to the track of Charles Paddock, the fastest human, who is to attempt to demonstrate to the wide world that he is the best sprinter alive. It is a record-breaking number of entries and it will undoubtedly be more closely contested than any previous meet.

MANY SPECIAL EVENTS Relay events, the most exciting track events known, are to be run off between high schools and colleges of various classifications over there are a number of special open events in which some of the greatest spiked-shoe performers in the world will compete, and it is safe to say that the program of the relay carnival is the best of the track year.

Competition in the college events finds U.S.C. a strong favorite in the short distances and Pomona a good favorite in the longer distances with Occidental providing the main contest in all events and having a splendid chance of winning any of the races.

Los Angeles High is a favorite in the short prep races and Polytechnic in the longer ones. Not much is known of the out-of-town schools, but the competition is always red hot.

Of the special events only one, the 110-yard hurdles, promises to be a walkover. Charley Daggs of Pomona is apparently in a class by himself as Otto Anderson of U.S.C. has a pulled tendon and Bob Allen of Redlands is not running this year. The open 100-yard dash perhaps is also to be claimed as a sure thing for Charley Paddock, but will attract special attention not only because of Paddock's appearance, but because of the race for second and third honors between each other as Redlands and Los Angeles.

U.S.C. and Chif Argue, Occidental all-round demon. The high jump promises to be closely contested with Oliver Corey of U. S. C. a favorite and Alma Richards, Davis and Ed Shaw also of U.S.C. Stovall of S.E.U.C. and Argue of Occidental chief competitors. The broad jump looks like a battle between Wilson Rogers, Baker and Asterson of U.S.C. Friable of Pomona and Argue and Putnam of Occidental.

One of the real thrills of the meet is promised when the star pole-vaulter of Southern California, Emmett, tries to clear the 12-foot bar. Emmett and Nichols of Occidental are all good for better than 12 feet and should put up an awful battle.

A race that promises to be of special interest is the four-mile relay which is being run for the first time in Southern California and which will transfer the title to the winner of the new record. Pomona has an exceptionally fast quartet headed by Capt. K. Handley and ably assisted by Curtis Van Cough, Varsity athletes and Bill Snyder, a remarkable freshman. Occidental with Sloan, Chandler, Giffen and Carter will be the main contest. The runner with the fastest time in the relay is the one who has the most to lose.

The first event starts sharp at 1 o'clock. Joseph Pipal, athletic coach at Occidental, tried out Johnny Spangler yesterday, but the star runner showed in his workout that he has not fully recovered from the injury suffered last Tuesday when he pulled a tendon while practicing. Pipal stated that he had hoped to use Spangler in today's relay events.

O'BRIEN WILL FIGHT AT LYCEUM TONIGHT Tommy O'Brien, the Los Angeles lightweight whose knockout prowess made him a sensation in Australia and Milwaukee, will make his first appearance in this city in over two years tonight. O'Brien is scheduled to box Young Datto in the main event of the weekly program at the Lyceum A.C., 231 South Spring street.

As the semi-wind-up Matchmaker Dick Donald has matched Billy Maxwell and Solder Gardner, 135-pounders. They staged a thrilling draw several weeks ago. The remainder of the card is as follows: Jimmy Mack vs. Mexican Kid, 128 pounds; Lane Hamlin vs. Jake Ahern, 155 pounds; Kid Strand vs. Cyclone Burns, 145 pounds, and Benny Diaz vs. Jimmy O'Neill, 115 pounds.

NEVILLE ASKED TO JOIN TEAM Along with the invitation to play on the American golf team at Deal Scotland, of Dr. Hunter and Fred Wright, Jack Neville, State champion, has also been asked to compete with the Americans. Neville has not as yet decided whether or not he will travel across the water with the Yank team. Neville, as one of the best amateurs in the country, would be a great asset to the team, and would stand a good chance of coping with the Europeans.

Dr. Hunter has definitely made up his mind not to go East, and Fred Wright has, on the other hand, accepted the invitation of the committee.

Dario Resta is Getting Better With Practice Dario Resta made his daily visit to the Los Angeles Speedway yesterday morning and succeeded in getting in several laps in practice before ignition trouble cut him down. He was timed one lap in 37.4 seconds, which is the fastest circuit that he has made of the big Beverly basin. Frank Elliott was out with his Leach Special, but didn't have her working at her best, and was content with several fairly fast laps. Late afternoon found Elliott busy engaged in working on his motor, while Resta was out pursuing the positive pellets around the golf course.

CHIEF DURANT, multimillionaire speed merchant and proprietor of the Durant racing team, made himself in peculiar difficulty. CHIEF hired Frankie Durant, one-time contender for the world's lightweight boxing championship, as a trainer and brought him down from Oakland on his yacht but Uncle Frank's chauffeur wouldn't let professional Frankie inside the city-white doves of the I.A.A.C. so CHIEF had to ship him back to Oakland and has been grappling with Al Troler to get in shape for the grueling 150-mile grind.

A. M. Young was in horrible condition yesterday as the result of rumors spread around town yesterday to the effect that Eddie Heame and Frank Elliott had both been killed in an accident at the Speedway. As far as could be learned last night both Heame and Elliott were badly injured in an accident at their foot with all their remaining teeth and reported no casualties during the day.

MURPHY SCRAPS TERRIFIC DRAW WITH O'BRIEN Larry Murphy and Willie O'Brien, two of the best featherweights in local parts, fought a terrific battle in the main event at Hollywood last night, a draw verdict resulting. O'Brien had the better of the milling in the first round, adding left to Murphy's face that had Larry bewildered. O'Brien also had the best of the argument in the second round. In the third session, however, Murphy evened going by driving O'Brien all around the ring with hard rights and lefts to the stomach in this round.

Frankie McCann sent Joe Coffey on a trip to dreamland in the second of the semi-wind-up. McCann had all the better of the going and a terrific right stopped Joe for five minutes in the second. Young McGovern beat Johnny Kenney; Tiger Johnny Cline whipped Johnny Demake; Frankie Dolan out-punched Ed Williams; Phil Duarte and Hank Gattian scrapped a draw, and Jimmy McGuckle defeated Sailor Stiers. A banner crowd saw the bouts.

Miss Eleanor Goss of New York and Mrs. May Sutton Budy, Miss Brown's sister, were in every way and she is a certain to appear in an exhibition match in the afternoon, but it is not likely that serious tournament play in the women's events will commence until Thursday. Miss Goss's sensational victory over Miss Helen Willis at San Francisco last week makes her a hot contender for honors in the women's events.

Harvey Snodgrass, Cliff Herd, Tom Fernandez, Harold Goddard, Ralph Sindorf, Wynn Mack, Harold Dickenson and other favorites in the men's-singles event will swing into action today and by tomorrow night the field should be fairly well cut down.

SEEMED AWKWARD It was rarely that Wagner ever made a bad throw to first, and he could throw from most any position. On the other hand, he seemed awkward as he spread himself, but every muscle in his body worked in perfect co-ordination.

An instance of his love for the game: One day several of us were walking about the park near the Schenley Hotel, in Pittsburgh. At that time we stopped out there so as to be near the park. We still do, for that matter.

A crowd of boys had started a game down in a vacant lot. A big, bulky fellow stopped to look them over. He got very much interested and asked to get in the game. They let him go to bat. With two on bases he hit a hard wallop for his side. Then the boys discovered who he was.

"Isn't that old Honus down there?" some one in our party asked. Sure enough it was. Not satisfied with having played a hard game against the Giants he had

CHICAGO CUBS HEAD WEST THIS MORNING (REUTERS DISPATCH) CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—With nine athletes, one coach and one trainer in tow, Manager Bill Killefer departs over the Santa Fe tomorrow morning for the Cub training camp at Catalina Island. Word came from St. Louis that Charlie Hollocher, star shortstop, has the grip and cannot start west for several days. Ten more performers, not to mention a couple of scouts, will be picked up en route, and by next Tuesday afternoon the big spring drills will get under way at the island retreat.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Prison Decline
(BY A. F. HIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Selling of bonds by speculative interests to obtain funds for stock market operations, combined with a lack of fresh buying power, imparted a reactionary trend to prices in today's relatively quiet bond market. Dealers report that large blocks of listed bonds are being offered around the financial district at concessions from the market.

Recent weakness of French exchange resulted in further liquidation of French government and municipal issues but with the exception of a drop of 1 point in Marcellin 5s, the net losses were held within fractional limits. Argentine 7s dropped nearly a point from the top prices established yesterday.

United States government issues again moved within narrow limits, the third and fourth 4-1/2s closing unchanged and the others showing losses of 3 to 8 cents on $100.

The only important changes in the railroad group were on the downward side, Kansas of a point or more being registered by New Orleans, Texas and Mexico 5s, Rio Grande extending to New York Westchester and Boston 4 1/2s and Southern Pacific refunding 4s.

Industrial bonds generally moved to higher ground in sympathy with rising stock prices. Gains of approximately 1 point were recorded by Wilson and Company 6 1/2s, Eastern Cuba Sugar 7 1/2s and Ohio Copper 5s. Virginia Carolina certificates 7s were weak, dropping 1-3/4 points.

Several small municipal issues were offered during the day and the announcement was made that the $25,000,000 Dutch East Indies issue had been oversubscribed.

Total sales, par value, were $10,000,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Following are the closing bid quotations on the New York Stock Exchange. Published by Lewis & Brown.

CARRIGAN IS NAFTZGER'S SUCCESSOR

Appointment to Industrial Commission is Announced by Governor

Gov. Richardson yesterday announced the appointment of John W. Carrigan, Los Angeles attorney, as Industrial Accident Commissioner, to succeed A. H. Naftzger, deceased.

Mr. Carrigan is an attorney with offices in the Pacific Finance Building, and was formerly head of the State Industrial Accident Commission under Controller John S. Chambers.

Gov. Richardson, in a statement at his headquarters in the Pacific Finance Building, said: "There were a large number of persons who desired to be Industrial Accident Commissioner, but after a careful review of the field, I decided to draft John W. Carrigan."

Mr. Carrigan is one of the most important commissions in the state, and it is vital that this board be kept on a high plane and the great humanitarian work continued in the spirit and purpose of the original act. I am particularly pleased that Mr. Carrigan has decided to accept the place. He has accepted because he believes with me that this commission should be improved in efficiency and made of greater value to the men and women of California."

Mr. Carrigan was born in 1864, at San Francisco, and came to Los Angeles in 1884. He was educated at the University of California, and has been in the legal profession since 1888.

VALENTINO FILM FOR POLA NEGRI

"Don Caesar De Bazan" Will Follow "The Cheat"

Rights Originally Purchased for Rodolph

Production on Lavish Scale is Planned

Pola Negri, after she has made "The Cheat," which will be begun Monday, will be given the picture that Rodolph Valentino was to have made, "Don Caesar De Bazan," re-titled for Valentino as "The Spanish Cavalier," according to an announcement made by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, in New York City yesterday.

Plan for the production, which is to be made on the Paramount lot here, has been started.

"The success of 'The Cheat,' and 'The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse' has indicated that the public is ready for the biggest dramatic picture," said Mr. Lasky, and plans which he has inaugurated since his arrival in New York last week call for a production made on a scale never before attempted in the Lasky Studio.

"Don Caesar De Bazan" was written in the middle of the last century by Adolph Dennery, author of "The Two Orphans," in collaboration with P. S. Dumas. Paramount first intended to produce it last fall under the name of "The Spanish Cavalier," with Rodolph Valentino in the title role. The script was prepared by Miss June Mathis, who wrote the script for "Hood and Sundry" and "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," and it has been held over since.

LAVISH PLANS

"When we decided to make 'Don Caesar De Bazan' last fall," said Mr. Lasky, "we all decided that the play was of such a type that there was only one way to produce it and that was on an unusually lavish scale. Accordingly, we went ahead with our plans to make this the biggest thing ever attempted on the screen. We engaged Miss Mathis, of course, is one of the best scenario writers there is and in 'Don Caesar De Bazan' she has outdone all her previous efforts.

"We had even gone so far as to have work started on the costumes when Mr. Valentino, who was to have had the star role, left the studio. This naturally halted our plans temporarily. When Miss Negri arrived in this country, however, and began work on 'Bella Donna,' we saw immediately

For me before my fourth child was born. With the first three I had had headaches twice a week. I couldn't sleep enough food down to do me any good, and my work was left undone many a time. My sister-in-law told me to take the Vegetable Compound when I began to have the same old dreadful sickness and headaches and so I took it. Since then I have only had two headaches, a good appetite and am nearly lost a meal. I have a fine, healthy baby girl who has never had a sick day. The nicest part is that I am healthy, too. It did me a lot of good, and if I should ever have another baby I will take your medicine at once."—Mrs. Warner, 1075 Park Avenue, Springfield, Ohio.

HAS SILENCER FOR ROOSTER

Long Beach Councilman Seeks to Remove Crow by Inaugurating

(By a Times Staff Correspondent.) LONG BEACH, Feb. 16.—

A resolution seeking to restrain roosters from crowing has been introduced by Councilman Alexander Beck. Councilman Beck proposes that the Council force all owners of chickens in the city to reconstruct their coops so that the rooster will be forced to occupy the top-most perch. This perch would be but a scant distance from the top of the coop. When the rooster stood up, flapped his wings, raised his head and attempted to crow, he would strike his head against the roof of the coop and this would prevent him from giving voice, Mr. Beck says.

So far, however, the Council has taken no action, but Mr. Beck is serious about the matter and intends to press it until action is taken.

*****

That here was the player for "Don Caesar De Bazan." Although in his original version the play was stars used as a vehicle for male stars the part of the Spanish Cavalier is given to Miss Negri, and the extraordinary scene genius. The leading male role will be played by Antonio Moreno, who will arrive in New York next week.

DIRECTOR IS SECRET

"We already have been negotiating with several famous costume designers, including Helen Dryden, who did the costumes for 'Claire De Lune,' and Georges Barbier, the famous French designer. The costumes for Miss Negri and Mr. Moreno will be designed either by them or by somebody equally well known in the theater.

"I am not at liberty just now to give the name of the director of 'Don Caesar De Bazan.' He is one of a leading producers in motion pictures, however, and I expect to be able to announce his name in the very near future. The picture will be made in the Lasky studio and we already have completed arrangements for a special unit to handle the production, which undoubtedly will take several months.

The extraordinary interest shown by the public in Miss Negri since her arrival in this country will be amply repaid by the quality of her American-made pictures. In 'Don Caesar De Bazan,' Miss Negri has three of the greatest photographs the screen has ever seen and she has expressed delight with the type of pictures for her debut to America.

MOONSHINER IS SENTENCED

"There is an organized conspiracy in this community to subvert and destroy the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution," U. S. District Judge J. B. Selby imposed a sentence of six months in the County Jail of Orange on John Selby of Palma, who had been found guilty of manufacturing liquor and having in his possession a ten-gallon still and ingredients to make moonshine.

Selby had previously been fined under the first count of the information charging transportation of liquor. It was argued that Selby had no right to go through his house without a search warrant, but finding him with a truckload of the stuff at the time of his arrest, deprived him of the constitutional provision.

John L. Bishop, attorney for Selby, pleaded for leniency, and he was joined by Agent O'Leary, who said Selby had three small children and the mother was dead. The court expressed his sorrow for the children, but the law was made for everybody, and he proposed to enforce it. Selby was given five days to have some one care for his children before reporting for the Santa Ana Jail.

Divorce Venue Change Is Given Mrs. M'Dermott

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—

Both the suit for divorce by Mrs. Miriam Nesbitt MacDermott of Larchmont against Maro MacDermott, screen star, and Mrs. MacDermott's suit for asserted alienation of affections against Stella Helen Gilmore, actress, have been transferred from Westchester to New York county. The local address of MacDermott is given as 136 West Ninety-third street, and the papers give Miss Gilmore's address as 19 West Ninth street.

Mrs. MacDermott charges that Miss Gilmore succeeded in winning the affections of her husband between September, 1921, and July, 1922.

Miss Gilmore denies the charges.

William H. Williams' affairs of the heart were the talk of Eagle Rock for many months. Mrs. Iva M. Williams charged in a suit for divorce filed yesterday.

Her husband was a veritable love pirate, she asserts. He entertained numerous women at their home during her absence, she declares, and lived with one for a week. Neighbors knew about this, the wife says, and it furnished them a subject of gossip for months.

Mrs. Williams names Catherine E. Green as co-respondent. She says she found many letters from different women addressed to her husband, one of them signed "Your Peggy Love." The suit was prepared by Attorney R. D. McLaugh-

TRIAL TO BE ASKED FOR DRY AGENT

Reopening of Apparently Forgotten Rink Case to be Requested

With the case of A. S. Rinkie, Federal prohibition agent indicted by the county grand jury last August, apparently pigeon-holed and forgotten by the United States District Court, Dep. Dist. Atty McClelland yesterday announced that he will appeal to the court on March 5 to reopen the matter and set the case for trial. The accused is now in Honolulu, in the service of the government.

Rinkie was transferred to Hawaii shortly after he was indicted, and his case submitted to the United States court which has jurisdiction in such cases. He was indicted on the testimony of Walter Kierstead, an assistant dry-lawyer, who declared he had been brutally beaten by the Federal officer.

The offense is said to have occurred on July 6 last. Kierstead was arrested by Rinkie and another Federal agent on a charge of violating the dry laws. Kierstead testified before the grand jury that he broke away from the two agents and attempted to flee. He was overtaken, he said, and was then assaulted by Rinkie, who struck him repeatedly on the head with the butt of his revolver. Rinkie was charged in the indictment with assault to do great bodily harm and with carrying a dangerous weapon.

BAECKER IS QUALIFIED TO BE SEER

Calls Turn on Dyer Act Conviction, but His Term is Still Unannounced

Wally Baecker, the kingly of automobile thieves, according to the evidence adduced before a jury in Judge Bledsoe's court yesterday, ought to be able to qualify as a crystal gazer by reason of his ability to "call the turn."

"Wally will recall that back in 1926, when he occupied the look-out chair in the Northern, a gambling emporium run in Goldfield by Tex Rickard, 'Old' Elliott and 'Kid' Hyland, they called the turn paid four to one.

Whether that percentage will be maintained when Judge Bledsoe gives him his job Monday morning, Baecker having been found guilty of violations of the Dyer Act, involving the illegal taking of an automobile from one State to another without the consent of the owner, remains to be seen. He is not one but five, the testimony showed.

The jury was assembling in the box for the resumption of the trial yesterday morning. Baecker, sitting by the side of his counsel, looked longingly at the matter of his trial. He has brought about a marked increase in crime, and whereas a program of amendment has been put forward and endorsed by the Los Angeles Crime Commission, the Los Angeles Bar Association, City Council Board of Supervisors, Chamber of Commerce, Stock Exchange and Church Federation and various clubs and societies here and in other parts of the State.

RESOLUTIONS IN DETAIL

Resolutions of the Clearing House follow:

Whereas, the delays and difficulties in the enforcing of justice in our courts in the matter of the various cases of crime, and marked increase in crime, and whereas, a program of amendment has been put forward and endorsed by the Los Angeles Crime Commission, the Los Angeles Bar Association, City Council Board of Supervisors, Chamber of Commerce, Stock Exchange, Church Federation and various clubs and societies here and in other parts of the State.

Pair Wedded Half-Century Are Honored

Mr. and Mrs. J. Elias Dunham, pioneer Bay District residents, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last night at a reception given by their children and friends in their honor. The reception was held at the home of Mrs. J. Walter Gray at 2352 West Twenty-third street. Mrs. Gray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dunham. Present at the celebration were Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dunham of Dayton, O.; Stanley Dunham of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. George Mercer of Alhambra, in addition to Dr. and Mrs. Gray and a number of intimate friends and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunham were married at Lebanon, O. They came to Santa Monica thirty-five years ago. Mr. Dunham is prominent in civic affairs in the Bay District, and in Masonic circles in Southern California. For many years he was manager of the Jones and Baker ranch, but has retired. The couple live on a ranch in Topanga Canyon.

Sold to O'Leary, So-Called Rabbis' Wine Is Mocked

Another pair of asserted "rabbis" are in trouble with the prohibition law—"Rabbi" L. Warren and "Rabbi" Ben Gardner, both living at 2435 Brooklyn avenue.

Some time ago, on account of Gardner's asserted activities in the liquor trade, his permit to furnish sacramental wine was revoked. Then the supposed congregation held a meeting and elected Warren the "rabbi" of the fold.

Warren removed his stock of liquor to the home of Gardner, who raised the Gardner cellar yesterday, after the purchase of a gallon of wine for $5.50 was made by Warren.

Legislators Called Upon to Change Law

Many Other Societies Are Planning to Act

*****

The chief measures in the program of judicial and legal reform designed to reduce crime in California are constitutional amendments so far as they may return a verdict in criminal as well as in civil cases, except where the death penalty is involved.

(The majority verdict for criminal cases has worked successfully for a century in the courts of Scotland.)

Judges have advised on points of fact as well as on points of law.

(This is done in all United States Federal courts, the criminal courts of many States and in all courts in England.)

These two measures already have been endorsed in the judicial section of the California Bar Association; the local County Bar Association, Crime Commission, City Council, County Board of Supervisors, Chamber of Commerce, Stock Exchange and Church Federation and various clubs and societies here and in other parts of the State.

Roach Signs Up Cast for Great London Story

Jack London's "The Call of the Wild," which Hal Roach is producing, with Fred Jackman directing, is to be interpreted by a particularly able cast.

Mr. Roach yesterday affixed his signature to contracts with Walter Long, Jack Muihal, Frank Butler, Sidney D'Albrook and Laura Roaming, and tonight the entire company, under the guidance of Jackman, will leave for Truckee, where the picture will be completed.

The principal character of London's story being a dog, the Roach company was called upon to supply "Bunt," one of the few remaining full-blooded St. Bernards. "Bunt" goes to Truckee in charge of Lou Treesh, the Roach animal trainer.

Mr. Long has been engaged to play "The Call of the Wild," because of his remarkable success in similar roles in which he has included among other things the part of Thornton; Butler, who recently had a prominent part in Ray's "Taylor Made Man," is intrusted with the characterization of Charles. Muihal will be Hal, and Miss Roaming, the only woman member of the troupe, will portray Mercedes.

Cowboys Lend Rodeo Tone to Local Hearing

Judge Clock's department of the Superior Court looked like a rodeo yesterday when a dozen husky cowboys from Antelope Valley, dolled up in their best, appeared to testify in the suit of W. G. Fraser, J. W. Myers and associates against C. J. Hamilton and J. H. Hamilton, his son. Judge Clock gave the plaintiffs judgment for $15,150.

Fraser, who lives at Riverside and owns with his associates La Loma ranch in the Antelope Valley, bought 500 head of cattle and water holes from the Hamiltons and asserted that only 329 head were received. The plaintiffs asserted the cowboys had not been diligent in combing the canyons, and the cowboys came in to refute this assertion.

Auto Smash-Up Hurts Woman

Mrs. J. Enger of Hollywood is in the Culver City Hospital with possible fatal injuries as the result of a collision between her automobile and a Pacific Electric car on Hughes avenue in Palms yesterday afternoon. Her 3-year-old son, who was riding with her, was thrown into the street, but escaped unhurt.

Mrs. Enger was driving her car, a sedan, and turned north to cross the tracks, apparently not seeing the approaching car. It smashed into her machine, throwing it against a near-by pole, wrecking the automobile and injuring both occupants to the street. Mrs. Enger suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Frederickson on One Charge, Seized on Another

As Harry B. Smith stepped out of a courtroom in San Bernardino yesterday, just after a charge against him of passing bad checks had been dismissed, he was tapped on the shoulder by Deputy Constables Adams and McCullum, and was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Smith is said to be the former president of the United States Industrial Sales Corporation of Portland, Ore. The suit against him is a much-wanted man, declaring that an indictment by the Portland grand jury awaits him, that the Sacramento authorities desire to question him concerning a check, and that in Pacific Grove a warrant charging larceny has been sworn out against him.

It was signed by "V. W. M. Solinas, manager," and "A. B. S. Belloni, secretary." Cavalleri, who came to this country from Naples, said that he bought the contract from a "Dr. Louis Garnier," president of the Rainbow Pictures Corporation, P. O. box 143, New Rochelle, N. Y., on January 21.

"I met Garnier on a train while going from Boston to New York last March, Cavalleri said yesterday. 'I told him I was a singer and was going to New York to find work. He told me he had helped me to get a contract with the manager for Mr. Lasky, and that he would give me a job in pictures.'

Arrest Stopped Wedding on Last Saturday

Federal officials were preparing last evening to return Harry C. Toms of Minneapolis to that city for trial on a charge of robbing the mails, while Miss Louise Kidson, 21-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kidson of 4150 South Normandie avenue, was recovering from the shock of discovering that her fiancé was in the City Jail.

Toms was arrested at Coronado early this week on a Federal warrant issued in South Dakota after he had written a letter to Miss Kidson saying that his mother was dead in Minneapolis and that he had returned for her funeral. The couple were to have been married last Saturday evening.

Hawley Court Summons Will Be Published

Allen Burton Hawley, husband of Wanda Hawley, film actress, will be served with a summons by publication in the case of his wife's divorce suit, it was ordered yesterday by Judge Craig in Superior Court.

Hawley is now in New York, and his wife is in Europe. When Hawley left California, he said he was not coming back, according to published reports. While in Albany, N. Y., he declared that if he were to start a counter-suit for divorce, he would astound the film fans of America by his story.

Roach Signs Up Cast for Great London Story

Jack London's "The Call of the Wild," which Hal Roach is producing, with Fred Jackman directing, is to be interpreted by a particularly able cast.

Mr. Roach yesterday affixed his signature to contracts with Walter Long, Jack Muihal, Frank Butler, Sidney D'Albrook and Laura Roaming, and tonight the entire company, under the guidance of Jackman, will leave for Truckee, where the picture will be completed.

Cowboys Lend Rodeo Tone to Local Hearing

Judge Clock's department of the Superior Court looked like a rodeo yesterday when a dozen husky cowboys from Antelope Valley, dolled up in their best, appeared to testify in the suit of W. G. Fraser, J. W. Myers and associates against C. J. Hamilton and J. H. Hamilton, his son. Judge Clock gave the plaintiffs judgment for $15,150.

Fraser, who lives at Riverside and owns with his associates La Loma ranch in the Antelope Valley, bought 500 head of cattle and water holes from the Hamiltons and asserted that only 329 head were received. The plaintiffs asserted the cowboys had not been diligent in combing the canyons, and the cowboys came in to refute this assertion.

Auto Smash-Up Hurts Woman

Mrs. J. Enger of Hollywood is in the Culver City Hospital with possible fatal injuries as the result of a collision between her automobile and a Pacific Electric car on Hughes avenue in Palms yesterday afternoon. Her 3-year-old son, who was riding with her, was thrown into the street, but escaped unhurt.

Mrs. Enger was driving her car, a sedan, and turned north to cross the tracks, apparently not seeing the approaching car. It smashed into her machine, throwing it against a near-by pole, wrecking the automobile and injuring both occupants to the street. Mrs. Enger suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Frederickson on One Charge, Seized on Another

As Harry B. Smith stepped out of a courtroom in San Bernardino yesterday, just after a charge against him of passing bad checks had been dismissed, he was tapped on the shoulder by Deputy Constables Adams and McCullum, and was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Smith is said to be the former president of the United States Industrial Sales Corporation of Portland, Ore. The suit against him is a much-wanted man, declaring that an indictment by the Portland grand jury awaits him, that the Sacramento authorities desire to question him concerning a check, and that in Pacific Grove a warrant charging larceny has been sworn out against him.

DeMille
The future of this clever little flapper heroine, Pauline Garon, evidently lies in the West.
As taken of this we have the news that she has been signed to play a leading role in the adaptation of "Terwilliger," the magazine story which Arthur H. Jacobs in to produce with Frank Borzage directing.
Miss Garon, you know, is the debutante of Cecil E. De Mille's picture, "Adam's Rib," now showing at Grauman's Rialto Theater. Since appearing in that picture she has been playing in "Don't Fool Your Wife," under the direction of George Melford.
Sets for the "Terwilliger" production are now being built, and represent Gramercy Park, New York. More than six blocks of streets identical with the present surroundings of the famous old park will be constructed, it is said. Miss Garon will arrive on the coast next Saturday to work in the film.

ENSEMBLE IS AGAIN UNUSUAL
The Los Angeles Chamber Music Society is continuing to be magnificently unconventional in its choice of programs. At least, it feels that any organization that succeeds time after time in giving prominence to such unusual combinations of instruments is accomplishing something unconventional in point of ensemble, and more than that is performing a really valuable service in enlarging a specific portion of the horizon of music.
The society offered its eighth concert last night at Gamut Club auditorium. The resources of the organization itself were the ones chiefly drawn on. At least, the Philharmonic Quartet, including Sylvain Noack, first violinist; Henry Dyckoffsky, second violinist; Emile Peritz, viola player, and Ilya Bronson, violoncellist, were the reserve for the concert. To this combination was added the double bass of Ernest Huber, and in one number, the trumpet of Vladimir Drucker, both members of the Philharmonic Orchestra.
Only two ensemble numbers were played—one a septet with violin, viola, cello, double bass, piano and trumpet, by St. Louis, and Franz Schubert's "Trout" quintet. In certain respects each number was a particular triumph, although the Schubert quintet was perhaps the more vividly delightful of the two. It was played with discrimination by Mrs. Rogers-Lott, Mr. Noack, Mr. Peritz, Mr. Bronson and Mr. Huber. They attained an especially fine balance, and light and at times brilliant freedom in the rendition.
What caught one's attention particularly about the septet was the excellent blending of the trumpet notes with those of the strings and piano. Mr. Drucker's musical excellence was here disclosed, and the impression made by the quintet of strings and the pianist was thoroughly enjoyable in this sparkling and colorful Saint-Saens work.
As an interlude between the two ensemble numbers, Pansy Lott, soprano, sang "Calmes au quai de la mer," by Joseph Jongens with string quartet and piano accompaniment. The song is in the modernistic vein, but entirely graceful perhaps, but the singer received a testimonial of applause for her rendition.
SINGER'S ANNIVERSARY
Challapin is Guest of Honor at Birthday Party
Feodor Challapin is a year older. Cozy, though, he refuses to tell how much this added year makes. But no matter. He celebrated his birthday at the Rialto, and a party was given in his honor by Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Cherniavsky, who entertained him during his stay in this city.
Guests at the party included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leonard, the latter a member of the Philharmonic, Marietta Aldrich and her daughter, Meeka Aldrich, Frank Mayo and Dagmar Godowsky, his wife, L. E. Belmyer, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schallert, Alex. Cherniavsky, Elia Cherniavsky, Mr. Rabinowitz, Mr. Levianna, Hyman Banner and May and Rena MacDonald.
During the supper Mr. Challapin was toasted by both Mr. and Mrs. Cherniavsky, and in answering declared that they had literally opened their hearts to him during his stay here, and that he felt as if there was nothing left for anybody else, but that if at any time he could through his art or otherwise return their kindness, he would be happy to do so.
Challapin is to return to California for a series of concert engagements in May.

FLASHES
SIGN BARRYMORE
By Grace Kingsley
Despite his fame on the stage, John Barrymore is not at all averse to stepping out into the limelight once in a while.
According to word just received from New York, Warner Brothers have succeeded in persuading Barrymore to labor for that portion of the vineyard of art controlled by them. The contract, it is said, was signed just before Barrymore sailed last Saturday for Europe, where he will be gone for several weeks.
It is also learned that David Belasco will co-operate in the production of the Barrymore pictures. Whether Barrymore will come West or not is not yet settled, but it is reported that he will probably do so, and that he will make at least one or two productions here.
When King Vidor starts out to gather in an all-star cast for one of his pictures, an all-star cast it is just bound to be. He has just signed three more players for his Goldwyn production of "Three Wise Fools."
William H. Crane, who bears the title of "Dean of the American stage," is to play the role of the judge. Crane, who is famous on the stage as star of many plays, has so far appeared in only one or two pictures.
Eleanor Boardman, Cinderella of the cinema, has found another golden slipper. Vidor has chosen her for the leading feminine role in his production of "Three Wise Fools," although she is still playing the lead in Rupert Hughes' "Souls for Sale." Miss Boardman has been in pictures less than a year, and has already played some of the best parts which Goldwyn has produced. She is a native of New York, and is a member of the company. Miss Pitts is rapidly forging ahead.
Other members of the cast heretofore announced are Alec Francis, Claude Gillingwater, Martha Mattox, Brimley Shaw, John Salpinis, Fred Emmett and Pat Hartigan.

Star of Bright New Photoplay
Marie Prevost
is cast in one of the leading roles of "The Beautiful and the Damned," which starts at the California Theater tomorrow. Harry Myers will also be seen in a leading role in this production.

"RIGOLETTO" IS HEARD AT OPERA
Verdi's "Rigoletto" was given a most satisfactory performance from every point of view. Friday night at the Philharmonic a capacity house gave evidence of genuine appreciation and commendation at every opportunity.
Bonelli, baritone, who took the title role, is one of the best singers of the entire company. He is likewise flexible and at the same time substantial. Much of the success of the evening's performance was due to the work of this star.
Josephine Luchessa, who is remembered for her splendid work here other season, sang the important part of Gilda. This is one of the most famous of all operatic roles, and Miss Luchessa gave a rendition that was outstanding in its general effect. Her voice is clear, pure and bell-like in quality. At times one could wish that it were warmer in quality, especially with the loud high notes. Her enunciation is clear and her reading of the score rhythmic and accurate. In "Caro Nome" she scored a great success with the audience, and deservedly so.
Baldrich, as the Duke of Mantua, took his part well. He sang with much feeling, showed much familiarity and musicianship with the part. His voice is not one of the most remarkable voices that we have heard recently, but it is very pleasing and satisfying.
DeBiasi, bass, gave the part of the assassin much color, adding contrast to the other parts. Cervi, bass, as a noble, won applause at the close of his aria in the first act. The minor roles were not as pleasing vocally, but an excellent ensemble was effected.
Much credit is due the conductor, Carlo Peroni. It is seldom that operatic conductors know the trick of keeping down the orchestra, even sufficiently that the singer's voice is always heard above the accompaniment. And this was accomplished most praiseworthy last night.

READS PROLOGUES FOR NOTED DANCER
R. Carroll Nye
R. Carroll Nye has been chosen by Paul Swan, the dancer, to read the prologues to the dances which Mr. Swan will give at the Hotel Maryland in Pasadena this evening. The prologues are really the poems which the dancer interprets to the spectators, originally planned and executed by him, distinguished Paul Swan dancer.

Belmyer, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schallert, Alex. Cherniavsky, Elia Cherniavsky, Mr. Rabinowitz, Mr. Levianna, Hyman Banner and May and Rena MacDonald.
During the supper Mr. Challapin was toasted by both Mr. and Mrs. Cherniavsky, and in answering declared that they had literally opened their hearts to him during his stay here, and that he felt as if there was nothing left for anybody else, but that if at any time he could through his art or otherwise return their kindness, he would be happy to do so.
Challapin is to return to California for a series of concert engagements in May.

FLAPPER STAR IS COMING BACK
BY EDWIN SCHALLERT
The future of this clever little flapper heroine, Pauline Garon, evidently lies in the West.
As taken of this we have the news that she has been signed to play a leading role in the adaptation of "Terwilliger," the magazine story which Arthur H. Jacobs in to produce with Frank Borzage directing.
Miss Garon, you know, is the debutante of Cecil E. De Mille's picture, "Adam's Rib," now showing at Grauman's Rialto Theater. Since appearing in that picture she has been playing in "Don't Fool Your Wife," under the direction of George Melford.
Sets for the "Terwilliger" production are now being built, and represent Gramercy Park, New York. More than six blocks of streets identical with the present surroundings of the famous old park will be constructed, it is said. Miss Garon will arrive on the coast next Saturday to work in the film.

ENSEMBLE IS AGAIN UNUSUAL
The Los Angeles Chamber Music Society is continuing to be magnificently unconventional in its choice of programs. At least, it feels that any organization that succeeds time after time in giving prominence to such unusual combinations of instruments is accomplishing something unconventional in point of ensemble, and more than that is performing a really valuable service in enlarging a specific portion of the horizon of music.
The society offered its eighth concert last night at Gamut Club auditorium. The resources of the organization itself were the ones chiefly drawn on. At least, the Philharmonic Quartet, including Sylvain Noack, first violinist; Henry Dyckoffsky, second violinist; Emile Peritz, viola player, and Ilya Bronson, violoncellist, were the reserve for the concert. To this combination was added the double bass of Ernest Huber, and in one number, the trumpet of Vladimir Drucker, both members of the Philharmonic Orchestra.
Only two ensemble numbers were played—one a septet with violin, viola, cello, double bass, piano and trumpet, by St. Louis, and Franz Schubert's "Trout" quintet. In certain respects each number was a particular triumph, although the Schubert quintet was perhaps the more vividly delightful of the two. It was played with discrimination by Mrs. Rogers-Lott, Mr. Noack, Mr. Peritz, Mr. Bronson and Mr. Huber. They attained an especially fine balance, and light and at times brilliant freedom in the rendition.
What caught one's attention particularly about the septet was the excellent blending of the trumpet notes with those of the strings and piano. Mr. Drucker's musical excellence was here disclosed, and the impression made by the quintet of strings and the pianist was thoroughly enjoyable in this sparkling and colorful Saint-Saens work.
As an interlude between the two ensemble numbers, Pansy Lott, soprano, sang "Calmes au quai de la mer," by Joseph Jongens with string quartet and piano accompaniment. The song is in the modernistic vein, but entirely graceful perhaps, but the singer received a testimonial of applause for her rendition.
SINGER'S ANNIVERSARY
Challapin is Guest of Honor at Birthday Party
Feodor Challapin is a year older. Cozy, though, he refuses to tell how much this added year makes. But no matter. He celebrated his birthday at the Rialto, and a party was given in his honor by Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Cherniavsky, who entertained him during his stay in this city.
Guests at the party included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leonard, the latter a member of the Philharmonic, Marietta Aldrich and her daughter, Meeka Aldrich, Frank Mayo and Dagmar Godowsky, his wife, L. E. Belmyer, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schallert, Alex. Cherniavsky, Elia Cherniavsky, Mr. Rabinowitz, Mr. Levianna, Hyman Banner and May and Rena MacDonald.
During the supper Mr. Challapin was toasted by both Mr. and Mrs. Cherniavsky, and in answering declared that they had literally opened their hearts to him during his stay here, and that he felt as if there was nothing left for anybody else, but that if at any time he could through his art or otherwise return their kindness, he would be happy to do so.
Challapin is to return to California for a series of concert engagements in May.

The image shows a dark, vertical, textured surface, possibly a book cover or a piece of wood. A lighter, textured strip runs vertically along the left edge, suggesting a hinge or a binding. The main surface is dark and has a fine, vertical grain or texture. There are some lighter, irregular patches and marks on the surface, particularly near the top and bottom. The overall appearance is aged and worn.

REDS SCORED BY ROTARIANS

Mulholland Warns Against Radicalism Spread

Insidious Propaganda Fatal to Americanism

Average Man Partly to Blame Through Inaction

Warning against the spread of the spirit of radicalism in America was sounded at the Alexandria yesterday by Frank Mulholland, past president of Rotary International, speaking before 180 members of the local Rotary Club.

"When I speak of the radical element I am not talking about the laborer, nor Socialist, nor the philosophical anarchist," said Mr. Mulholland. "I refer to those dangerous human firebrands who go around attempting to tear down every system and vestige of government through direct action."

"Why is this radical spirit rampant in America today? You and I are partly to blame for it. Within the last ten years there has not been a labor meeting of any consequence that has not witnessed the presence of scores of these anarchists who stood at the doors handing out to the laborers their destructive literature. How much literature have we loyal American citizens handed out to counteract this insidious propaganda? How many of us have read the Constitution of the United States within the last two years? I tell you, the average business man is not fit to teach Americanism. What we need is the Americanization of the American business man—the Americanization of Rotarians, if you please."

LITERATURE READ

Mr. Mulholland read brief extracts from the literature of the radicals, much of which was recently secured by government secret-service workers. He spoke of the meeting of the Reds at Milwaukee, reading the request of the leaders at that meeting asking that committees be appointed to work for the destruction of the United States government. He quoted the statement of Eugene V. Debs: "I am law-abiding under protest."

and repeated Victor Berger's prediction of a bloody revolution. He quoted the obscene, unprintable hymn of hate found in the song book of the I.W.O., in which the members of that disorderly order are challenged to rise and burn and slay and rape.

"To rip and tear and murder and smite."

"And let the blessed Jesus bless your dynamite."

"And that song was written in

DRUG, KIDNAP DOCTOR

San Diego Optometrist Awakes Here After Being Forced to Swallow Drops, He Tells Police

The story of how he had been mysteriously kidnaped in San Diego Thursday night, given knockout drops and brought to Los Angeles in an automobile, was related to Detective Sergeant Charles Winand yesterday by Dr. Bruce L. Wallace, San Diego optometrist.

Dr. Wallace said he woke up from the effects of the drugs yesterday morning in a Los Angeles rooming house, and shortly after a tall, dark man wearing a mask, entered the room, and said, "Well, Blackie, we meet again."

He said this man told him "The Chief will be right in."

Then he said two other men entered, and one, called the Chief, registered disgust. "You suckers have gotten the wrong man," he said. "This last Blackie was a dummy."

He said the car was driven from Fifth to Twenty-fifth streets on Market street in San Diego. At Twenty-fifth and Market, he said the driver drew up to the curb, and was joined by two companions, one of whom he said was a doctor, and told him to keep quiet.

He said the trio offered him his choice of taking knockout drops or of being hit over the head, and he finally agreed to swallow the drops. The next thing he remembered, he said, was when he woke up in the Los Angeles rooming house.

Several detectives were assigned to investigate the case.

America during the war, when America's heart was almost breaking because of her sacrifices in the cause of world freedom, and it was written by a man born in Russia," said Mr. Mulholland.

"Scores of foreigners thus come to our beautiful country under the pretext of seeking freedom, only to betray the flag under which they find protection," said the speaker. "I believe in immigration. The development of our national resources and the general expansion of our national life require the influx of honest foreign blood. However, the place for the foreigner to declare his intentions is at the port of his embarkation, rather than in America, three or four years after his arrival here."

TELLS OF RUSSIA

The Reds have been stalking through America praising the glory of Russia as a paradise in which laborers are happy, hours of labor short, and in which all human afflictions have been eradicated. This mirage of a Bolshevik heaven has been exercising a terrible influence upon ignorant and unthinking men and women. Would to God some of these misguided ones had been with me recently when I made a face-to-face study of the situation. This winter more than 3,000,000 of people will die in Russia from starvation. Millions have already died in the attempt to establish an ultra-radical, impossible form of government.

"All in all, I am not sorry that

AMERICA URGED TO AID EUROPE

Foreign Financial Plight is Analyzed by Vanderlip

E. L. Doherty Tells of Oil Development Here

Both Speak at Los Angeles Bond Club Meeting

An analysis of the foreign situation with special reference to governmental obligations by Frank A. Vanderlip, international financial authority, and the narration of the pioneer oil development of Southern California and of Mexico by E. L. Doherty, chairman of the board of directors of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company, were the features last night of the meeting of the Los Angeles Bond Club at the Alexandria.

Mr. Vanderlip placed particular emphasis on the importance of American aid in the rehabilitation of European finances before the securities of those governments can find a real market in this country.

"We are facing as momentous a decision now as we faced six years ago when we entered the war," he declared, "and that is, whether we are going to enter the peace negotiations. I hope that public sentiment will show the government where its duties lie and aid in removing the prejudices and beliefs that bind us to our side of the Atlantic. People talk about entangling alliances. We are entangled in Europe to the extent of the $11,000,000,000 and which he said, and you destroy the effectiveness of that individual."

LOS ANGELES AGENCY SHOWS LARGEST GAINS

That the Los Angeles agency of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company broke all records in the United States in the increased business written in 1921, was the announcement issued by the home office of the company, shortly after the close of the year. W. K. Murphy, general agent of the company, with offices in the Title Insurance building, showed a net increase of $1,665,305 last year from the previous year. The second largest net increase in business was made by the Pennsylvania agency and the third largest by the home State agency in Wisconsin.

Items That Help Us Grasp Size of British Debt

Great Britain and the United States have agreed upon a way to settle their financial differences. The settlement of "this momentous question," says the British Chancellor, "is a necessary prelude to settlement of European question." "Here," says President Harding, "is the first clearing of the war-clouded skies in a debt-burdened world. . . . It is a recommitment of the English-speaking world to the validity of contract; it is, in effect, a plight against war and war expenditures."

Herbert Frank in Court Again; Is Found Guilty

Found guilty of disturbing the peace, J. Herbert Frank, motion picture actor, was given a suspended sentence of ninety days yesterday by Police Judge Richardson, and placed on probation, the terms of which are that he is not to go near the home of Mrs. Lou E. Coolney nor annoy her in any way.

Mrs. Coolney caused Frank's arrest, asserting he was disturbing her home at 1523 Morningstar Court. He cursed her and handled her roughly, she asserted, when he came to her home Wednesday for some of his clothing and effects, which she had been holding as security for money he owed her.

A charge of violating the State Police Act in having a hypodermic needle in his possession was made against Frank last August and is still pending. Mrs. Coolney gave $50 bail for his release on this charge.

She had him arrested January 3 on an assault charge which was dismissed. On this occasion she asserted he exercised a malignant influence over her daughter, Irma, and she ordered him from the house, where he was rooming. Miss Coolney accompanied Frank Wednesday night when he visited the Coolney home, it was said.

PLAYS WILL BE IMPORTED

Preferred Pictures to Obtain European Successes for American-Screen Production

Sensational European stage successes will find their way to the American screen in the immediate future as a result of a trans-Atlantic shopping trip just undertaken by Al Lichtman, vice-president of Preferred Pictures.

But the production will have the support of American players only. Both B. P. Schulberg, head of the producing body, and Mr. Lichtman, who heads the distributing corporation, have agreed that there is no dearth of player material in the United States and that none will be brought from abroad regardless of the inducements offered.

Mr. Lichtman will sail from New York next Tuesday on the Berengaria. He hopes to return with a minimum of stage successes suitable for screen production as a part of the company's series of eighteen pictures to be made during the coming twelve months.

SHY OF MATERIAL

The dearth of story material here and the wealth of pictureable literature that has been produced in Europe since the war are pointed out as reasons for the Lichtman trip. Such unusual pictures as "Blood and Sand," "Lillom," "The Cradle," "The Swan" are pointed out as examples of the European stage productions that have been converted into successful films. Mr. Lichtman, who will open distribution offices in all the European capitals, also will open a literary office in London, where the latest literary and stage material will be received, read and tabulated in order to make possible a quicker decision on stories submitted.

A surprise banquet was tendered Mr. Lichtman at the Ritz-Carlton last night by New York writers, producers and exchange men.
